Chapter 6

Preparation: A Passionate Mom must be prepared with personal integrity and a detailed plan in advance of the opportunity.

1. We spend lots of time worrying about the friends our children have, but sometimes underestimate the impact that our adult friends have on our ability to parent well. Do you have some key friendships or relationships that encourage and challenge you as a mom?
2. Are you bold or confident as a mother? Why or why not?
3. How does the way in which you live your life in the community (with regard to character and integrity) have an impact on your children? What's the difference between gaining favor with others and being a people-pleaser?
4. Do you have an overall plan for parenting? Realizing that you can't anticipate every need and circumstance in advance, what might such a plan look like?
