Chapter 9

Problem Solving: A Passionate Mom has trial, tribulations, difficulties, and inconveniences—often daily—but she solves them as best she can.

1. Nehemiah faced a lengthy list of problems as he went about rebuilding the walls: jealousy, ridicule, anger, fear, internal squabbles and distraction. Which of these presents the greatest challenge to you and your family as you attempt to implement your plan?
2. How can faith in God lessen the effects of several of these problems?
3. We often see the problem of the day as the fault of the person standing in front of us. But who else seeks to derail and undermine our parenting plan, and how does recognizing our true enemy enable us to defend against him?
4. The pace of life in the modern world leaves us vulnerable to distraction every day. How can we, as moms, guard against distraction?
